

Training Policy

Lathams' Training Policy promotes the project design delivery process and enhances business objectives. We offer all our staff an ongoing programme of continuous learning and skills enhancement to help them meet these objectives.

Lathams will:

- Offer training for our employees who have, or are likely to have, new work content or a new work environment
- Provide further training to maintain the necessary standard of performance and any professional CPD requirements over a period of time
- Provide learning opportunities to help our employees maintain their flexibility and potential, and support them in any later changes in work content or work environment
- Make sure our people are fully involved in identifying, planning, progressing and evaluation their own training
- Encourage and support each individual's own education interests.
